

January 7, 2008

Arcasoft Announces PowerPoint® ShortcutTools - a boost for PowerPoint productivity

Arcasoft has released PowerPoint® ShortcutTools, a PowerPoint plug-in for Microsoft® PowerPoint® XP, 2003 and 2007. It provides a set of tools that significantly simplify drawing tasks by using keyboard shortcuts.

Tasks that normally require several mouse clicks and mouse movements are now completed with one key stroke at 100% accuracy.

In PowerPoint® ShortcutTools you assign user defined keyboard shortcuts to commands like Group, Align, Resize, Make Same Width, Make Same Height, Split Objects, Paste Unformatted, Print Current Slide and many more.

When working with numbers, use the “Addup Textfields” command. Simply press ALT+A to add up selected text fields. The result is displayed and copied to the clipboard. Your objects are in a wrong order? Simply select the objects with the mouse in the correct order and press ALT+S, which sorts them immediately.

PowerPoint ShortcutTools provides tools that benefit both the average user in an office and presentation pros.

Arcasoft Managing Director commented: “PowerPoint designers that are using PowerPoint ShortcutTools for a while can not imagine anymore working without this useful tool.”

Arcasoft PowerPoint ShortcutTools is priced at US $39.95 and can be purchased from their website: www.shortcuttools.com. For further details and a 30-day free trial, go to www.shortcuttools.com